ORDER

This cause comes before the Court on the memorandum and recommendation of United States Magistrate Judge James E. Gates regarding frivolity review of plaintiff's complaint pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). Plaintiff has filed no objection to the memorandum and recommendation (M&R), and the matter is ripe for review.

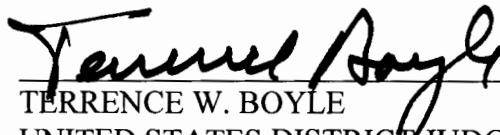

Plaintiff filed this action with claims apparently arising out of defendant's unspecified involvement in foreclosure proceedings against property inherited by plaintiff. Plaintiff's pro se complaint does not readily reveal specific allegations against defendant, though plaintiff refers to criminal acts of extortion, embezzlement, fraud, libelism, identity fraud, malpractice, and negligence. Plaintiff seeks relief for pain and suffering, "torts awards," and recovery of damages.

A district court is required to review de novo those portions of an M&R to which a party timely files specific objections or where there is plain error. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 149-50 (1985). "[I]n the absence of a timely filed objection, a district court need not conduct de novo review, but instead must only satisfy itself that there is no clear error on the face of the record in order to accept the recommendation." Diamond v. Colonial Life &

Acc. Ins. Co., 416 F.3d 310, 315 (4th Cir. 2005).

The Court has reviewed the M&R for clear error and finds none. Accordingly, the Court ADOPTS the M&R and DISMISSES plaintiff's complaint in its entirety. The clerk is DIRECTED to close this case.

SO ORDERED, this 20 day of May, 2013.

TERRENCE W. BOYLE
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE
